NAVAL ACCOUNTS.

DIVISION I.—NAVAL YARDS.

PART II.—MANUFACTURES.

REPORT of the ACCOUNTANT GENERAL of the NAVY and COMPTROLLER OF NAVY PAY.

PARLIAMENTARY ACCOUNT, 1873-74.

(No. 435.)

Admiralty, S.W., 22 April 1875.

I BEG to forward herewith the Accounts for the year 1873-74 of the Cost of Conversion of Timber in Her Majesty's Dockyards, and Manufacture of Articles for Store in the Dockyard and Steam Factory Workshops, showing how far the Cost is in Excess of, or Less than, the Rate Book prices; in order that the same may be laid before Parliament, in accordance with the course pursued in respect to similar Accounts for previous years.

These Accounts are compiled, so as to show a comparison between the Total Dr. and Cr. Amounts of each Manufacturing Account, and corresponding Totals of the Expense Accounts (see Conversion Accounts, No. 9, for each Dockyard, in Expense Accounts, Parliamentary Return, No. 166, Navy, of Session 1875, and pages viii and ix of these Accounts), of which they form detailed Sub-accounts.

The Manufacturing Accounts from which these have been compiled have been prepared at the several Yards with the same fulness of detail as in preceding years, for the purpose of comparing the Cost of the same descriptions of Conversions of Timber, and of Articles Manufactured at the different Yards, and for the annual revision of the Rate Book prices of such Articles; but have been condensed and classified in office, after the necessary investigation as to the differences of Cost of similar productions at different Yards.

The difference between the aggregate Cost of the Converted Produce and its Rate Book price or value (858,780*l.*), as charged to Stock, is .918 per cent.

H. WALKER,
Accountant General of the Navy and Comptroller of Navy Pay.

The Secretary of the Admiralty.

Figures in Italics against the Converted Produce, represent the Rate Book Price or Value at which it was returned to Stock for subsequent Issue; the common figures represent the Cost Rate or Value, and the small common figures represent the Cost of Timber Materials not having a Rate Book Price, as nearly as could be ascertained at the time they were returned to Stock. Figures against the other Returns to Stock, both common and Italics, are the Rate Book Prices or Values at which these Returns were debited to Stock.

* The Officers report that this excess of Cost over Rate Book Value was caused by the Timber from which Conversions were produced for Deptford being very shakey.

For explanation on Figures in Italics, &c., see page 5.

Figures in Italics against the Manufactured and Repaired Articles, represent the Rate Book Price or Value at which they were returned to Stock for subsequent Issue; the common figures represent the Cost Rate or Value, and the SMALL common figures represent the Cost of Articles not having a Rate Book Price, as nearly as could be ascertained at the time the Articles were returned. Figures against the other Returns to Stock, both common and Italics, are the Rate Book Prices or Values at which these Returns were debited to Stock.

For explanation on Figures in Italics, &c., see page 137.

* These differences of Cost more than Rate Book Value were occasioned partly from the increase of the price of Hemp in the latter part of the year without a corresponding increase in the price of Yarn and Cordage; and partly from the advance in the rate of Workmen's Wages. The General Expenditure was also considerably increased by the high price of Coals.

† This difference of Cost less than Rate Book Value was caused partly by the Yarn and Cordage returned to Store and valued at the Rate Book Prices of 1872-73, prior to receiving the Rate Book for 1873-74, and partly from the bulk of the Yarn taken from unrove Cordage being found fit for re-manufacture, which caused the diminished cost for its selection.

For explanation on Figures in Italics, &c., see page 137.

* This difference was caused chiefly on the shot and shell Burtons and wads, gromet, the former amounting to 12*l.* 11*s.* 9*d.*, arising from fitting a single instead of a double iron block, and the latter amounting to 17*l.* 3*s.* 2*d.*, arising from the pay of the steam reserve men not having been included in this account, their wages being accounted for elsewhere.

(a).—Differences between Cost and Rate Book Value, as shown in the Balance Sheets of Sail Loft Manufactures and Repairs at the several Dockyards, are accounted for chiefly from the Rate Book prices for 1872-73 having been used prior to the issue of those for 1873-74, in May 1873; and from the cost of repairs being in some cases more, and in other cases less, than the proportion allowed for this work.

For explanation on Figures in Italics, &c., see page 137.

* The greatest part of this difference was on repairs, arising from the great differences in the nature and extent of the work done; the uniform abatement of one-third from the Rate Book Prices on Iron Articles issued for repair being in most cases either too much or too little for covering the expense thereof.

* The officers report that this difference less than Rate Book Value was due to the cost of re-manufacturing iron at the metal mills being considerably less than the market prices represented by the Rate Book rates.

† These differences of cost more than Rate Book Value were caused partly by the copper issued for refining and for manufactures at the commencement of the year 1873-74, prior to the issue of the Rate Book for that year, having been valued at the high prices of copper in the preceding year, and partly by the advance of workmen's wages; also by the increase of General Expenditure charges arising from the advance prices of coal and other materials.

‡ See preceding remarks.

For explanation on Figures in Italics, &c., see page 137.

* This excess of Cost over Rate Book Value was chiefly upon Block Shivers and Pins, the Rate Book Prices for the smaller sizes being rather too low ; also upon some special descriptions and sizes of Blocks resulting from the same cause. The advance in the cost of wages, also of coals, and other articles of general expenditure added also to the cost of manufacture.

NET COST of Produce less than Price at which charged to Storekeeper - - - £. 167 12 3

For explanation on Figures in Italics, &c., see page 137.

* The greatest proportion of the Excess of Cost more than Rate Book Value was upon Hoses, Delivery and Suction, Nos. 2 and 3 sizes, and is reported by the officers as having been caused by the rise in the price of materials. Nearly the whole of the Cost less than Rate Book Value was upon Repaired Work.

* The officers report that these solders were made from hards cut from old lead fittings, which contained old solder, thus requiring less tin to mix with them; hence the apparent cheapness of their production, and the difference less to the extent of 34 l. than the Rate Book rate.

For explanation on Figures in Italics, &c., see page 137.

* The excess of Cost was caused, to a great extent, by the high rates for Materials and Labour during this year. The less Cost than Rate Book Value is reported by the officers as having resulted chiefly from the larger proportion of Old Metal used in the Gun Metal Castings than usual.

For explanation on Figures in Italics, &c., see page 137.

* This difference of Cost less than Rate Book Price was mainly on Furnace Bars, and was caused chiefly by the high Rate Book Price used at the commencement of the year for valuing these bars, which had been made from iron issued prior to the rise.

For explanation on Figures in Italics, &c., see page 137.

* This difference of Cost less than Rate Book Value is accounted for partly from the circumstance as to Furnace Bars, referred to in Note on page 494, and partly from the average cost of the Repairs being less than the proportion allowed for the work.

VICTUALLING.

NAVAL ACCOUNTS.

DIVISION 2—VICTUALLING.

REPORT of the ACCOUNTANT GENERAL OF THE NAVY AND COMPTROLLER OF NAVY PAY.

(No. 708.)

Admiralty, S.W., 24 July 1875.

1. THESE Navy Victualling Accounts have been compiled, as heretofore, in the shape they will assume as a portion of one complete Account which, it is hoped, will be annually prepared of the details of Expenditure for the whole of the Naval Services.

2. They commence, pages 8 and 9, with a "General Statement" showing the total amounts granted and the total amounts expended for the Navy for Victualling Service under each Vote for each Yard, &c., as they appear in pages 22 and 23 of the published Retabulation of the Surpluses and Deficits upon the Navy Grants (Parliamentary Paper, No. 165, of 1875), and proceed with a "Balance Sheet" for the year, pages 12 and 13, showing in detail under the several Sub-heads of the Votes the amount expended and, so far as the Home Yards are concerned, the value of the Stock received, disposed of, and remaining.

3. At pages 15 to 34 are shown the several quantities and cost of every description of article brought to account during the year for the Victualling Service of the Navy, whether obtained by purchase from Contractors or Vendors, or supplied by other Departments of Government, the totals of these expenditures being duly carried to the Balance Sheet, page 12.

4. Pages 35 to 41 give Stock Valuation Accounts for the Home Victualling Yards, showing the money value of the aggregate transactions under each head of receipt and issue, together with the remains in stock at each yard; and the amounts shown under the heads of receipts from "Contractors" and from "Other Departments" (in which cases, only, an actual payment or cash transfer is made), agree with those in the details of purchases in the preceding pages 15 to 34.

5. A Statement, at pages 44 and 45, of the "Appropriation of the Victualling portion of Votes 7 and 11" shows the amounts which are distributed in the Balance Sheet, page 13, as "Indirect Charges," as well as those portions of the Salaries, Wages, &c., which are chargeable to Conversions.
